

Question/answers - (literature)

1. what lesson does the fir tree teach?

The story teaches a lesson about how we look at the world. We should not be greedy and be happy with what we have and cherish every moment. Instead of being happy with what it has and what it is, the fir tree wants more. We should accept the reality.

2. what did Nasiruddin's friend do when Nasiruddin started boasting and what happened later?

When Nasiruddin started boasting, one of his friends brought a bow and some arrows and asked him to shoot the arrows at the target. Then Nasiruddin shot the arrow for the first time he missed the target and the arrow fell down somewhere in the middle.

3. What does Mary Daunt advise to do in her poem Run?

In the poem the poet is advising us to run away from the city-life. She wants us to run towards the countryside. She says we should run into the sun and in rain. We should run under the trees and we should race with each little breeze. We should run down the hillside and run through the meadows. We should run and be happy. We should run to the country away from the city.